Cablevision Firms Finally Agree On A Consultant

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It appears the town is now one step closer to awarding its cable television franchise: after a month of negotiation, the two companies competing for Andover's 15-year cable license have agreed on a consulting firm to study their finances. Rollins Cablevision of Atlanta has chosen Malarkey, Taylor and Associates of Washington, D.C., from the list of possible consultants submitted by Continental Cablevision of Lawrence. Rollins' Atty. Richard Asoian said yesterday.

Rollins notified the town manager of the choice earlier this week, Asoian reported. According to Robert Stengel, director of government affairs for Continental, Malarkey, Taylor is "probably the biggest consulting firm in the country, and it has had substantial experience dealing with cities and towns."

The firm is also currently acting as consultant to the city of Boston, Stengel added, "so they will be in the area."

Asoian indicated that the two firms had trouble choosing a consultant because Continental submitted names of firms that would "review (each company's) whole proposal," while Rollins selected firms that would zero in on the financial aspects of each proposal.

"We listed large, international accounting firms, who have departments set up especially to review these type of things," Asoian explained. "We believed that would be the quickest and least expensive way to do it."

"Malarkey, Taylor will probably review the whole proposal," he added, "and we didn't think that's what the selectmen were looking for. In our opinion, this is a redundant situation, as we have said."

The Andover Cable Television Advisory Committee last month recommended that the selectmen award the town's cable license to Rollins. That recommendation was the result of a year-long study by the advisory committee.

But the selectmen voted to hire a consultant, at the two companies' expense, after Continental challenged Rollins's financial statements.

Rollins objected to hiring a consultant because they said the advisory committee had already studied the financial aspects of their proposal.

However, the town manager and selectmen decided that hiring a consultant

Theater Plan Brings Protests From Shawsheen Area

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Some Shawsheen residents are seriously concerned about the prospect of a twin cinema and ten new stores opening at Shawsheen Plaza, and they plan to appear before the selectmen next Monday night to protest those plans. The meeting will be in Memorial Hall Library.

According to a petition the residents are circulating throughout town, traffic generated by the cinema and stores will "compound an already dangerous and congested area, hinder the mobility of the police department and fire department and . . . interfere with the vital services" offered by existing businesses in the Plaza.

"People are really up in arms about this," Joyce Rossitto of 363 North Main St. said this week. "The traffic will be unreal. And if there were ever a fire in one of the stores, how in heaven's name would the fire department get to it? This is a serious hazard to the town."

The selectmen endorsed the Village Cinema two weeks ago by approving a motion picture license for owner David DeFillipo. The theatre is scheduled to open next spring with seating for 456.

However, Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo has not yet granted a building permit for the theatre and stores, which would be built in a new addition next to the Andover Jade restaurant.

The inspector has until Dec. 31 to act on the permit application, but said Monday he hoped to review the application this week.

When the selectmen granted the motion picture permit, Selectman Jerry Silverman raised the question of adequate parking in the shopping center, and increased traffic in the Shawsheen Square area. Chairman James Abramson called those concern "perhaps premature" at this time.

The building inspector said this week that plans for "the total complex conform with zoning requirements" for parking spaces.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark last week acknowledged that "the concern about traffic is legitimate. At the present

The Bird Pole

All of the Scandinavian countries have the custom of the bird pole at Christmas. During the fall harvest, special sheaves of grain are tied up and set aside. When Christmas arrives, the bundles are tied to poles by the gate, in the field, or on the barn roof.

Town Hall Plans May Be Scrapped

Plans to renovate the two remaining wings of East Junior High School, after the Memorial Auditorium section becomes part of the new Doherty Junior High School, may be scrapped because of Proposition 2½, as that tax-cutting measure strikes yet another blow to the town.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark had hoped to use the EJH wings to house town and school administration offices, and sell the present Town Hall to a private developer.

By selling Town Hall, the manager believed that it could be "preserved at no expense to the taxpayer," and become the focal point of downtown redevelopment.

However, plans to renovate the junior high school wings may "go on the chopping block," Clark said Friday, when the "severe budget restraints" of Prop. 2½ set in next year.

Selectmen To Meet At Library

The selectmen are scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Memorial Hall Library, for what could be their last meeting of 1980.

At least one item on the agenda is expected to draw a large group of townspeople to the meeting: some Shawsheen citizens are protesting a proposed twin cinema in the Shawsheen Plaza.

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson has said that this could be the board's last meeting in December, but the board may decide to schedule a meeting for either Monday, Dec. 22, or Dec. 29.

Town—Police Apart In Negotiations

The town is still "a long way apart" from the police department in current negotiations for a new police contract, the town manager said Friday.

The town and police have been negotiating since March, according to Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, and the police association's contract expired at the end of June.

Clark declined to further discuss the current status of the negotiations, but said he may have more to say by next week.

The town will probably begin negotiating new contracts with the Fire Department and Public Works Department in January, he added.

Phone Co. Installing New Cable

New England Telephone is undertaking a major cable expansion and improvement project in Andover.

Area telephone manager Margaret Carrington said, "The installation of new equipment will provide additional cable capacity to meet the present and future needs of residential and business telephone subscribers in the Andover (470 and 475) exchange area."

"About three miles of aerial and underground cable is being placed along South Main Street and Hidden, Porter and Woburn Roads. Over 1,000 feet of conduit and one new manhole were placed along Hidden and Porter Roads to house the underground cable."

The work — now underway — is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

This is one of many such projects New England Telephone is undertaking this year as part of its $426 million construction program to expand and improve telephone service in Massachusetts.

Funds For MVRTA Released

Acting Secretary of Transportation James F. O'Leary recently authorized the release of $385,000 in bond funds for the purchase of new equipment by the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA).

The MVRTA will use the $385,000, along with $1.5 million in federal funds, to expand and modernize its vehicle fleet, to purchase maintenance and garage equipment, and to install bus stop signs and shelter.

Three advanced design buses, featuring extra-large tinted windows, climate control, and modernized electrical and suspension systems, will be purchased by the Authority with a portion of these funds. In addition, the Authority plans to purchase and rehabilitate 15 used transit buses.

The Authority will also acquire the Bos-Con Lines garage in Haverhill. After undergoing minor alterations and rehabilitation, the garage will be used as a maintenance and storage facility by the Authority.

The remaining funds will be used to purchase fare boxes and two-way radios, and to install bus stop signs and shelters.

"These improvements and new equipment will attract new riders and further our goals to make mass transit an appealing, viable, and efficient means of transportation for Merrimack Valley commuters," O'Leary commented.

The member communities of the MVRTA are Andover, Haverhill, Lawrence, Merrimack, Methuen, North Andover, Boxford, Groveland, Newbury, and Rowley.

Holiday Brunch Is Planned

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold its annual Holiday Brunch on Friday, Dec. 12, at 9:15 a.m. at the home of Sue Dennett, 68 Central St.

The Andover League will be reviewing State League positions on such topics as fiscal policy, education and natural resources. The Andover League membership will have the opportunity to recommend new studies and/or action on present positions to the State League. The State League will act on these recommendations at State Convention in June.

The business portion of the meeting will be followed by a brunch prepared by the local league board members. The public is invited to attend. For information, contact Marilyn Brody, 3 Carriage Hill Road.

Christmas Party For Historians

Tonight at 7:30, the members of the Andover Historical Society are invited to celebrate Christmas circa 1860 at the Amos Blanchard House, which has been beautifully decorated by the Andover Garden Club.

There will be organ music by David Currier, a special exhibit of wine decanters, as well as the new exhibit, "The Children's Hour." Refreshments will be served, and articles for Christmas giving will be on sale.

Beinecke, II, president of the Sperry & Hutchinson Company, and Thomas Hunt Wyman, president, chief executive office and a director of CBS, Inc., have been elected charter trustees of Phillips Academy, Andover. Both are graduates of the 203-year-old, independent, secondary school, coeducational since 1973.

CBS President Wyman, previously vice chairman of the Pillsbury Company, had been senior vice president of Polaroid Corporation. He was president and chief executive officer of the Green Giant Company from 1975 to 1979, when the Pillsbury Company acquired Green Giant and named Wyman Pillsbury's vice chairman. He assumed the presidency and chief executive duties of CBS in June, 1980. A St. Louis native, Wyman was a four-year student at Andover and president of his senior class, a graduate of Amherst, Phi Beta Kappa, in 1951, and served as an officer in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Korea. He spent ten years with the Nestle Company, including a year's graduate study at the Management Development Institute in Lausanne, Switzerland, and was a Nestle vice president before joining Polaroid in 1965.

Wyman is a director of the National Executive Service Corps and the United Negro College Fund, a trustee of Amherst College and The Economic Club of New York, and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Business Committee for the Arts. Wyman's eldest son is a recent Andover graduate.

Beinecke was associated with the law firm of Hughes, Hubbard and Reed, then was general counsel and deputy director for the South Street Seaport Museum before joining Sperry & Hutchinson in 1975 as manager of real estate for

S&H promotional services. Before assuming the presidency of the diversified company last April, Beinecke was acting president of the Gunlocke Company, one of the companies owned by S&H, the nation's largest trading stamp distributor. He has been an S&H vice president and a member of the company's board of directors since 1977.

Beinecke is a director of the New York Urban League and is vice chairman and a director of the New York City Ballet. Sinterklaas

The early Dutch settlers of New York told the story of St. Nicholas, or Sinterklaas, a 4th century bishop who was well known as a secret bestower of gifts to deserving people. It was this figure that inspired C.M. Moore to write this poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas."

6 Rare Astronomical Event Occurring New Year's Eve

This year a rare triple conjunction of the planets, Jupiter and Saturn, will add a new dimension to New Year's Eve.

The triple conjunction means that Jupiter passes Saturn three times within a year—Dec. 31, and again March 4, and July 23, 1981. The Charles Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science says these occasions are the last time people now living will have a chance to witness such a triple conjunction of the two largest planets.

The next time that the bright Jupiter and the fainter Saturn pass close to each other in the sky three times in a row will be in the 23rd century, in 2238-39. The last displays were in 1940-41 and 1682-83. Their usual passage is once every 20 years.

The Planetarium explains that although all the planets of the solar system seem to move across the sky close to the same path and sometimes near each other, they are actually many millions of kilometers apart. Most infrequently, when Saturn and Jupiter are passing each other, Earth overtakes them at the same time. As in one car passing another on the highway, Earth's faster speed causes the two planets to appear to back up and later to go forward again as Earth leaves them behind.

The triple conjunction is illustrated in the current Planetarium Christmas program (through Dec. 31) which presents and other astronomical events that could have guided the Magi to Bethlehem.

Program At Castle

On Monday, Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m., Miss Eleanor Sayre will give an informal talk at the Hammond Castle Museum entitled "A Christmas Story." Eleanor Sayre is curator of prints and drawings at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

The talk will accompany a small loan exhibition of fine reproductions of famous prints which depict the Christmas story. The prints are on loan from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Miss Sayre, a well-known connoisseur of prints and drawings, has also done extensive research on the history of Christmas carols of many countries. She has written a book discussing the relationship of Christmas carols to works of art entitled, "A Christmas Book", and has organized an exhibition upon the same theme which was shown to delighted audiences at the Museum of Fine Arts several years ago.

Toddler Toys

Toddlers between 18 months and three years appreciate action toys. They like things to ride and climb on, balls, a pool, a sandbox. They also like play furniture and appliances, blocks, clay, large crayons, a blackboard with chalk, and simple musical instruments.

Lenny Sweet and children Erin, 6, and Mike, 3, stop for a bit of window shopping on Main Street during a Christmas shopping expedition on the Friday after Thanksgiving — traditionally the busiest shopping day of the year.

would assure them that both companies could stand behind their proposals, and would not hit cable viewers with "major unforeseen rate increases" in future years.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said yesterday that he plans to schedule a meeting with representatives of Rollins, Continental, and the consulting firm next week, in part to "define what it is the consultant has been retained to do."

In general, the consulting firm will be asked to determine "whether the assumptions in the two proposals are reasonable, and whether the companies have the financial capability to carry out their proposals as presented to us," the manager explained.

"The work of the advisory committee was excellent," he added, "and our intention is not to repeat what they have done, but to go a little bit further than the committee was able to."

The consulting firm's fee — to be shared by Rollins and Continental — and the time required to complete the study will also be discussed during the upcoming meeting, Clark indicated.

Continental representatives have suggested that the study could be completed in a week or two, at a cost as low as $2,000.

Rollins representatives, however, maintain the study could take months to complete, and cost more than $30,000.

WESTern Roundup

By Mary Driscoll,
Kathy Mulvey

The past week at West Junior High has proven to be busy with tryouts being held for the new sports season.

Coach George Sullivan selected the boys who will represent our school on its freshman basketball team. Those chosen were: Peter Fernandes, John Geiger, Mike Gibson, John Lehy, Fran McGraghan, Mark Nardone, Dean Orfandes, Mike Redgate, Bob Rikeman, Bill Vickers, Charlie Zigeinbien, and Scott Zimmerman.

To keep school spirit strong, Wendy Batten, Kalley Cutler, Carla Derba, Holly Dickinson, Marybeth Gilmartin, Mary Jo Hunter, Cheryl Lasota, Alyssa McCabe, Jessica Ruben, Karen Santigatti, and Kathy Wesson were chosen to be members of the freshman cheerleading squad with Ellen Tisbert acting as their coach.

Miss Tisbert also trains Tasha Bianchini, Nancy Butler, Robin Colmbosion, Ann Marie Conron, Susie Deldotto, Kristine Foden, Jean Kelly, Lynn Madden, Pam Nicastro, Sara-Michelle Suppupo and Betsy White, who make up the grade eight cheerleading squad. They are preparing for their first appearance with the eighth grade boy's basketball team on Dec. 19.

The teachers recently had to make a tough decision when they selected the students who became the first term's Western Stars. In order to be chosen, a student had to be recognized as demonstrating character, commitment, courtesy, citizenship, and cooperation. Seventh graders Tom Deleir, Peter Quintal, Donna Dulbanowitz, eighth graders Katie D'Urso, Judy Founier, Scott Minor, Gemma Park, Sara Michele Suppupo, and freshman Maura King, Peter Comeau, Greg Saulnier and Colleen Johnson will be listed in the newspaper, have a luncheon with Principal William Hart, be permanently listed in the main foyer, and receive honorary Western Star t-shirts. Congratulations to all members of the sports team, cheerleaders and Western Stars and may they continue to practice our motto. "Excellence in Everything."

Outside Decor

Use only approved outdoor lighting equipment for Christmas decorations outside. Look for the UL label. Be sure it's grounded, use a three-pronged plug. Do not use indoor extension cords, fixtures or lighting sets outdoors. Always turn off lighting displays when adjusting them or changing bulbs. Use only a wooden ladder.

We'll teach you how to restore-it-yourself.

Christmas Cards

Written Christmas greetings date back to the early 1300's when English schoolboys penned holiday letters to their parents as an exercise. Then, in 1846, too busy to write his usual Christmas letters, Sir Henry Copley sent out printed cards, the first of billions now sent out all over the world.

Christmas Musicale Sunday

The Andover Bible Class, which meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Andover Bible Chapel, 226 Lowell St. in Andover, is planning to hold its Christmas musicale on Dec. 16 before closing down for a two-week recess over the holidays.

The concert will feature the regular soloist for the class, Marty Hardiman, along with pianist-organist, Mrs. Mary Parsons. Joining the regulars will be Mrs. Cathy Bellisario, organist-pianist from the Braintree Bible Class meeting on Mondays; Songtime radio concert artist Eric Logan with his wife, Phyllis; Philip Parsons, who will sing a duet with his wife, Mary; and a guest trumpeter. Larry Deal, the Andover Bible Class' regular song-leader, will direct the congregation in Christmas carols.

The teacher of the class, Rev. Herbet Henry Ehrenstein from Philadelphia, Pa., will bring a brief Christmas meditation. Rev. Ehrenstein is heard every Tuesday morning on "Songtime" answering questions called in by listeners. The program can be heard over WROL at 7 a.m. Rev. Ehrenstein extends a welcome to the public to attend this Christmas musicale. There is no charge but an offering will be received to defray expenses. The Andover Bible Chapel is reached from exit 17 on Route 93, by connecting with Route 133 for a half-mile to the A-frame building on the right side of the road. Ample parking in the rear.

Hot Toddies

Hot rum toddies and eggnog are traditional Yuletide "warmers" in America. In Yorkshire, England, people "sup" ale possets for luck...they're a mixture of warm milk, ale, beer, and wine, often quite heavily spiced.

At 8 a.m., a new men's group will meet for breakfast and to finalize plans for monthly meetings throughout the winter and spring. Herbert Spooner, Wendell Mattheson and Bill Nicoll will be manning the kitchen for that event.

The regular church classes for all ages will be held the usual 9:30 hour, followed by a coffee and conversation time at 10:30. The morning worship will begin at 11 a.m. and will feature special songs by the children of the church school, the reception of new adult members, and the presentation of special gifts brought by families for needy children. Immediately following the service, moderator Grace Nicoll will convene a brief meeting of the congregation to vote on United Methodist apportionments for 1981 and the salary items in the new budget. All church members and friends are invited to be a part of this morning at Ballardvale Church.

At 5 p.m. both the Junior High and the Senior High Youth Groups will meet at the church to go bowling. The entire congregation is reminded that on Sunday evening, Dec. 21, everyone is invited to the church at 5:30 p.m. for a dessert smorgasbord, followed by singing of carols, and carolling door-to-door in the community.

Christmas Lights

Take a close look at last year's Christmas tree lights, checking for worn or broken insulation, broken plug, loose bulb sockets. Replace broken or damaged extension cords — don't repair them. Don't use damaged equipment. Use extension cords sparingly and don't place them under rugs where people might walk on them.

Russian Christmas

In Russia, Christmas season is a time for family reunions and children's parties. The high point of the merriment is at midnight when a sleeping hen is brought into the warm kitchen from the cold roost and placed on the floor amidst five piles of grain.

While the hen is still sleepy, she selects the piles which represent wealth, poverty, death, marriage and a life of single blessedness.

Don't burn the Christmas tree in the fireplace; the dried needles make a too-hot fire.

Film At Andover Bible Chapel

"John Hus," a one-hour dramatic film on the life of the noted 15th century Bohemian priest, will be shown at the Andover Bible chapel, 266 Lowell St., Andover, Sunday, Dec. 14 at 6 p.m.

The film is a gripping presentation of a unique historical figure who planted the seeds of the Protestant Reformation one hundred years before Martin Luther.

The devotion of Hus to scripture and his relentless pursuit of spiritual truth alienated him from his church. His betrayal, trial, imprisonment and final execution by burning at the stake is a stirring true account that inspires faith and provides interest from beginning to end.

The hour-long historical drama was filmed on location in Germany, Czechoslovakia and California. It attempts to be accurate to every detail—costuming, setting, and dialogue. Much of the dialogue is actually taken from historical documents of the account.

Benefit Concert In Haverhill

The Whittier Chamber Orchestra, comprised of 17 string players, will be presenting a benefit concert on Sunday evening, Dec. 14, 7:15 p.m., at the Universalist-Unitarian Church, 15 Kenoza Ave., Haverhill. Proceeds will be donated to the Calvary Baptist Church in Haverhill. The church suffered extensive fire damage in 1977 and has been raising money to rebuild. A third of the goal of $270,000 has been raised thus far.

The orchestra will play works by Corelli, Handel, Vivaldi, and Torelli. Featured soloists will be Kay Roberts, violinist, and Dr. Rawn Spearman, baritone, both of the University of Lowell music faculty.

Area members of the orchestra are violinist Walter Kiesel and cellist Samuel Willis of Andover and violinist Robert Anderson of North Andover.

Arts Puppets

fanedes, Lee Webster, Laurie Hess, Christopher Kew, David Hallice, Jonathan Coppeta and Sally J. Wolfe, their art teacher.

Indians Theme For Pack 71

Indians and Indian Lore was the theme for the November meeting of Pack 71. Webelos of Den 1, Devon Arsenault, Billy Atchison, Michael Flynn, Chris Harding, Paul Lussier, David Pedini and Jeff Valcourt, under the leadership of Daryl Arsenault, opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance, Cub Scout Promise, and Law of the Pack.

Den 2 presented a skit entitled, "Are Indian Boys Different From You and Me?". The other dens explained their projects for the month which consisted of tom toms, Indian necklaces, Indian games, shakers, Indian head-dresses, arrows, peace pipes, totem poles, and Indian vests. The cubs explained what they made, how they went about it and its importance in Indian culture.

The Cub Scouts were honored with a very special guest at this meeting; Glenn Barnes of Rocky Hill Road, Andover. Glenn is a member of the Order of the Arrow which is an honorary society for the Boy Scouts. Belonging to this group encouraged Glenn's interest in Indian life and lore. He demonstrated an authentic Indian costume like that worn by the Plains Indians of Kansas and Nebraska. Glenn also explained the different types of designs on Indian breach cloth and the reasons for the various articles of clothing they wore.

"Chief" Zipeto received a special Indian headdress for the occasion, which was made and presented to him by the members of Boy Scout Troup 73. Welcomed into the tribe as Bob Cats were Scot Buchanan, Peter Cookson, Tim Donohue, Chris Foltz, Jodie Imbriglio, Michael Mondello, Steve Mollineaux, Eric Redding, Mark Shapiro and Peter Stansfield.

John Cote and Paul Mondello earned their Wolf Badges and Matt Zipeto was awarded a Silver Arrow. The Webelos Sportsman pin and showman pin were both awarded to Paul Lussier.

The next meeting of Pack 71, "Holiday Fun", will be held at the Shawsheen School on Friday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. At that meeting, there will be a uniform inspection for all scouts.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

It is our New Year's Eve Wednesday, Dec. 31, but The Haven will be celebrating a Chinese New Year's luncheon that day. Catered by the Andover Jade Restaurant, lunch will be served at noon, and then there will be live entertainment starting at 2 o'clock when the Tempo Band will provide music until 3:30 p.m. And all it will cost is $4! You should make your reservations right now.

The Haven will be closed both Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but will be happy to see you the day after each holiday. No reason to have after-holiday blues, when you can get yourself down to the center and have fun with dear people who need you as much as you need them.

The hot lunch program will not be in operation from Dec. 23 to Jan. 5 - school holidays.

Line dancing has been cancelled for

Dec. 23 and Dec. 30.

Helen Robinson and The Haven Singers will entertain the patients at Prescott House in North Andover Wednesday, Dec. 17.

You should be thinking about things to do after the holidays! One exciting day trip has been planned for Tuesday, Jan. 13 - a Mystery Ride - that takes you who knows where? But when you get there, there will be a delicious luncheon and entertainment. Why not make a ticket for the Mystery Ride a Christmas present to yourself? It will cost $10, but it will be worth it and more!

Among the things to look forward to, beyond January, is a trip to an Ice Follies matinee, date to be announced, and then in March - a Greek Festival at the Averof Restaurant in Cambridge with shish kabob and belly dancing.

You'll want to be watching for the winter classes soon to be announced. And in the meantime, you are always welcome to stop by The Haven any week day between 9 and 4 for a cup of coffee or tea, to chat, to enjoy the many ongoing events at the senior center. If you're new in town or newly over 60. The Haven is Andover's senior center located in the old theater building behind the Memorial Hall Library. Stop in and get acquainted.

Aurora Sculpture At Music Hall

Recent extensive research conducted by Edward J. Sampson Jr., President of the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Inc., has resulted in a fascinating chronicle about the "Aurora" sculpture located in the Methuen landmark.

The history of the "Aurora" sculpture in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall has been traced to a seventeenth century Italian painter and engraver of the Bolognese school, Guido Reni. Born in 1575 in the Calvenzano section of Bologna, Italy, Reni demonstrated an early natural aptitude for art. At about the age of nine, he was apprenticed to Denis Calvaert, a Flemish mannerist painter, at his teaching studio in Bologna. In 1595, at the age of twenty, Reni broke with Calvaert and entered the more progressive Academy of the Incamminati, founded by the brothers Ludovico, Agostino and Annibale Carracci. Reni's early style was also influenced by the Neapolitan artist, Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio and by the High Renaissance master, Raphael. His talent was confirmed by several church altarpieces; and, by frescoes commemorating the visit of Pope Clement VIII to Bologna. In 1599, Reni was elected to the painters' guild, Consiglio della Congregazione dei Pittori.

Reni's work was greatly admired by Scipione Caffarelli Cardinal Borghese, nephew of Pope Paul V, who took him into his service at Rome in 1608. During the years 1613 and 1614, at the cardinal's request, Reni executed what was to become the most celebrated of his works, a fresco entitled "Aurora". It was painted on the ceiling of the Casino Rospigliosi palace, built in Rome by Cardinal Borghese in 1603. Located east of the Tiber river and not far from both the Pantheon and the Colosseum, the palace property is on the site of the Baths of Constantine and is bounded by the Via Nazionale and the Via Ventiquattro Maggio.

The theme of the "Aurora" fresco is derived from Hellenistic mythology, the early light of dawn being conveyed over the shadowing clouds of night. Predominantly golden sun light in color, the fresco depicts Aurora, the goddess of the dawn, resplendent in brilliant orange, leading a procession and showering roses upon the still sleeping earth. Four galloping horses follow, pulling the chariot of Apollo, the god of the sun, attired in a red cape. Dancing about, with hands interlinked,

Portrait of Two New England Towns

Some readers will enjoy the tours of North Andover and Andover that the sequence of illustrations in this book provides. Some will want the book for the historical portrait the photographs give of each town. Some will want the book because they have long waited for this study by Katharine Knowles, whose photographs have captured the spirit of so much of New England and now, finally, of the area in which she was brought up.

Jose de Udaeta, world-renowned Spanish dancer, concertist and teacher, will offer a castanet concert of classical music illustrated with Spanish Flamenco dancing at Phillips Academy on Friday, Feb. 12. Everyone is welcome to attend this unusual free program in George Washington Hall at 8 p.m., co-sponsored by Phillips Academy's Spanish Department and its ballet program.

De Udaeta, who is performing also at the Museum of Fine Arts and at Harvard University, next week, is on tour in which he will be performing and giving master classes in New York, Chicago, California, Hawaii and Australia. He is the former director of the International Spanish Dance Summer Program at Sitges, Spain, choreographer of the Harness Ballet, choreographer and professor of Spanish dance at the Stockholm Opera House, Stuttgart Cranko Ballet School, the Dance Conservatory at Vienna, Surich, Salzburg and other cities in Europe. He is a former student of Phillips Academy ballet instructor, Christina Rubio.

The academy welcomes the community to enjoy this unusual opportunity with the PA students and faculty.

The Custom Of Hanging Stockings

The custom of hanging up a stocking by the chimney on Christmas Eve probably evolved from a legend surrounding the generosity of St. Nicholas. In the saint's hometown lived a man who had lost all his money through a string of unlucky events. The man had three daughters, but since he could not provide a dowry for any of them, it seemed doubtful they would ever marry.

St. Nich learned of their predicament and resolved to help them. Since he wanted no recognition or credit for his deed, he quietly came to their house at night and tossed three bags of gold, one for each girl, down the chimney. Each time, the legend tells us, the bag of gold landed in a stocking that was hanging by the fire to dry.

A Time For Giving

Stop at the library and pick up a copy of our holiday gift for you. Due to last year's great success, we have compiled another booklet of 36 of the staff's favorite recipes—punches, hors d'oeuvres, salads, cookies, cakes and candies. The booklet, compiled by Nancy Richards, will be available for distribution on Dec. 15.

New Service For Investors

An added service in the business section of the Memorial Hall Library Reference Department is Moody's "Investors Fact Sheets." Periodically revised, these two-page data sheets cover 4,000 companies listed on the NYSE, ASE, OTC and regional exchanges. In addition to the "Fact Sheets," there is an "Industry Review" service that ranks and classifies the reported stocks into any one of 130 industries. This new service augments the standard "Moody's Manuals," the handbook for investors.

Fiber Art Display

The Fiber Art of Lori Wilson is now on display at Memorial Hall Library. Lori, a 1976 graduate of Andover High School, is a recent graduate of Philadelphia College of Art. This work is an example of pattern on pattern: bead patterns imposed on man-made prints. The motifs are floral and portray an image of both decadence and innocence, according to Ms. Wilson.

Human Rights And Amnesty International

December 10 each year is designated "Human Rights Day" by the United Nations. Memorial Hall Library's observance of Human Rights Day this year is in the form of a display prepared by the local chapter of Amnesty International, the worldwide organization pledged to work for human rights, in the civil, political, economic, social and cultural spheres. Recent Amnesty International publications, a book display and several handouts are combined in this exhibit in the main reading room.

Pamphlet For Teens Available

Families, teens and people working with teenagers will be interested to know that their local libraries carry many titles appropriate to this age. Suggested titles dealing with relationships, drugs, sex and health are listed in the fourth in a series of family life pamphlets prepared by the Andover Memorial Hall Library and the Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence, a non-profit, professional counseling agency dedicated to preserving and strengthening families. Pamphlets are available at area libraries and at Family Service, 430 Canal St., Lawrence. The publishing of this series has been made possible by the generous support of the Friends of Memorial Hall Library.

An Andover Greeting For Santa

Santa Claus received his traditional welcome from firefighters and the Andover Chamber of Commerce last Saturday. The parade down Main Street featured an assortment of floats and faces. Photos clockwise from upper right: Bancroft students gather around their first place-winning float; Stephen Voutiritsa, 8 Avon St., waits for Santa with a candy cane; Andona Society clowns are a lively addition to the parade;

Shawsheen School's candy house takes second prize in the float contest; warmly-attired grandfather and granddaughter await Santa's visit; front row seat affords a great view for Richard and Ingrid Dumosch, Tricia Bright, Karen Jo Giammusso and Francesca Tine and a young camp follower' of the Andover Militia Company gets a ride down Main Street.

'Probation Center' Proposed For School

By Linda S. Corbett

A probationary center that would isolate problem pupils and provide a "better environment for the majority of students who are buying the social contract," has been proposed for Andover High.

The school committee will take a second look at it Tuesday night, when they meet at 7:30 p.m. in the West Elementary School Auditorium.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert presented the concept last week, as a means of filling in the "gaping hole" between short-term suspension of three to 10 days, and all-out expulsion of a year.

The probationary center, Seifert said, would isolate a student from his peers parttime, exclude him from most extra-curricular benefits and provide him with a work program.

The center would be an area within the school, monitored by an aide who would report to the youth adviser — if and when one is appointed.

The position was approved by the school committee recently, but won't be filled until the implications of Prop. 2½ are more clear. Meanwhile, the aide would report to the principal.

Seifert noted that hiring an aide, rather than a certified teacher, would cost the system less.

A pupil on probation would be in the center during certain times of the day, leaving to take his major subjects such as math, science, social studies, language arts and foreign language, with a regular class. He would then return to the center for the remainder of the day, including lunch. He would be expected to bring his own lunch from home, with milk provided through the school.

Seifert said the administration had tried to provide as much flexibility as it can in the program, and one of the areas where this flexibility could exist is in a student's involvement in extra-curricular, social and athletic activities.

Seifert also discussed the "contracts" inherent in the proposal.

First, he said, an educational contract would be needed to highlight what was expected of a pupil in academic areas.

Then a social contract between the school and an individual would contain the specifics of the work program, the satisfactory behavior expected, and attendance requirements.

Finally, a parent contract would be necessary, to let them know what was expected from the home front in terms of homework and social obligations.

Under present policy, a student suspension for three to 11 days is an administrative matter. A student is expelled by order of the school committee, after a hearing.

Under the proposal, a pupil would be sent to the probation center by an act of the committee, and he would need to petition for re-entry into the regular program.

Hopefully, Seifert told the school board, there would be just a few pupils requiring this action, so they wouldn't be spending too much time.

A variation on the proposal calls for a probation center outside of the school, staffed by a qualified substitute, who would provide a weekly "progress report" on achievement, conduct and effort.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann saw the proposal as a "helpful solution," adding that she had felt it necessary for some period of time to exclude some students. She said, however, the plan didn't include any remediation.

Colleague Donald Robb said he liked the involvement required of parents.

Flu Bug Hitting Schools

A combination of illnesses was taking Andover school youngsters home by the dozens this week.

Perhaps worst hit was East Jr. High, where 92 pupils were absent yesterday. Health Aide Theresa Sapienza said the normal absentee rate there is 15 to 20.

Sapienza said many of the pupils are going home with something that "sounds like" the Bangkok Flu, with sore throats and high temperatures. She said it seems to last about 24 hours, but leaves its victims feeling very weak.

At the same time, she said, there seems to be an abdominal virus going around, causing vomiting and diarrhea.

Electric Toys

Look for the UL label on electric toys. Consider the age of the child when buying toys.

Greek Bread A Tradition

Greek Christmas bread, the "christoposomo," is a large, round loaf decorated with scenes of the vineyard, farmyard, or other themes of the family's life. It is surrounded on the table by a plate of corn, a glass of wine, dried fruit, garlands of garlic, and other good things of the land.

With the family gathered around, the father crosses the bread with his knife, cuts it, and one by one, gives it to his family. Crumbs from the loaf are scattered in the orchard to increase the harvest and fed to the animals to protect them from disease.

In some areas of Czechoslovakia, a place is set for the Child at the Christmas Eve feast. Parts of the meal are shared with the animals of the farmyard to bring good luck for the new year.

Revalue Figure Base For 2½ Compliance

In The Spirit Of Christmas

Good works and deeds are often accomplished and go unnoticed. The Christmas season, however, lends itself particularly well to citing people for their efforts, and we present the following examples:

Samaritan

An Andover young man stopped to assist a motorist on Route 128 in the Waltham area, and simply performed his good samaritan task without leaving a name.

But, the appreciative Maine couple took the registration number of the car and traced it to Michael Goumas, a student at Sylvania Technical Institute in Waltham.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Goumas, 37 Chester St., provided assistance and the following letter was forwarded to the Dean of Students at the school by Mrs. Willard C. Mosher of North Bridgton, Maine:

"Since I do not know the name of one of your students who was so very kind to us yesterday, I am writing you in the hopes that you may recognize him or at least know that one of your students is a credit to the school.

"Marooned on Route 128 near the Trapelo Road exit with a broken fan belt, we had about given up hope of anyone — police included — ever stopping when this Datsun, license plate 380EB2 passed, slowed down, and backed up. The young driver checked the engine but couldn't repair it without a new fan belt. So, even though he was on the way home to Andover, he drove my husband to a Trapelo Road filling station, secured water replacement so that our car could be driven to the station, drove him back, got the car running again and enabled us to get to the station — all with only a thank you on our part!

"I only trust that this young man is as good a student as he is an individual. I know (as a former teacher myself) that some firm is going to get an A-I employee in the future and — with many retired Sylvania employees as friends — I hope it will be Sylvania!"

Sincerely,

Margaret I. Mosher
(Mrs. W.C.)

Kindness

When the TOWNSMAN moved to 89 North Main St., it wasn't anticipated that news would emanate from the building or across the street.

But, on Tuesday, a cat on a roof, not a hot tin one, produced some anxious, but ultimately rewarding, moments for employees of the Andover Art Gallery, quartered in the same building as the newspaper.

Dale Hunt and Stu Carlisle spotted the fickle feline on top of the pitched roof at 88

North Main Street, directly across the street.

They made pleas to town departments and firms which have such "bucket" or "snorkel" equipment, none of whom could respond to ease the plight of the black and white cat crying from the roof for help.

Finally, the two managed to get the cat to safety by standing on a second floor porch roof from where they were able to reach the appreciative pet and get it inside the house.

Honesty

At a bingo game conducted by St. Michael's parish at Camelot in North Andover Tuesday night a player found she had lost two $10 bills. She approached Gil Mailhot, the caller and told him she didn't think it would do much good, but would he ask if anyone had found the $20 somewhere in the entrance area.

The announcement brought a prompt response from a woman in the hall, who had found the money. She returned it to the relieved bingo player and was rewarded

The state Department of Revenue has determined that Andover's revaluation figure may be used as the base for setting the 2.5 percent levy limit under Proposition 2½, commissioner L. Joyce Hampers of that department announced last week.

"We were planning on using the revaluation figure all along," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said this week, "so that is a major concern out of the way."

According to the Department of Revenue, the property tax provisions of the law—aimed at reducing property taxes for Massachusetts taxpayers—will become effective July 1, 1981, the beginning of fiscal year 1982.

"The results will show up in the tax bills in the fall of 1981 after the fiscal 1982 tax rates are set," explains a bulletin from Commissioner Hampers.

Andover's current tax rate, recently set at $66 per thousand, will not be affected by 2½, Clark said.

However, a provision of the new law calling for reduced excise taxes will be implemented for all new registrations or those renewed after Jan. 1, 1981. For vehicles registered on or after that date, the excise tax rate will be reduced from $66 per thousand of valuation to $25 per thousand.

This reduction will mean the loss of an estimated $500,000 to $700,000 in excise tax revenues to Andover in the coming year, the manager said—a loss which already has town officials searching for ways to cut the town's budget.

The income tax deduction for rent-payers will be allowable for rent paid after Jan. 1, 1981, and attributable to rental periods beginning on or after the first of the year for an individual's principal place of residence in Massachusetts, Hampers said.

According to the commissioner, 50 percent of the actual rent paid by the taxpayer will be an allowable deduction from salary wages and other income taxes at 5.375 percent.

"Of the revenue loss from this feature of the law, 40 percent will be borne by cities and towns, since 40 percent of all income tax revenues are earmarked for the Local Aid Fund," Hampers explains. "The remaining 60 percent reduction will be borne by the Commonwealth."

January 1 has been chosen as the effective date for implementation of 2½ because its sponsors did not include dates in the referendum question, which voters approved on Nov. 4, the commissioner says. Prospectively, the taxes will be levied as on Jan. 1 of every year, with the assessment on a calendar year basis.

The state has developed a formula for determining full and fair cash value of all property in communities that, unlike Andover, will not have certified revaluation programs completed in time for fiscal year 1982.

Under this formula, a uniform inflation factor of 13 percent will be applied to the final 1980 equalized valuation figures for each city and town, to determine the equalized valuation as of Jan. 1, 1981.

The Department of Revenue's Division of Local Services, headed by Deputy Commissioner Edward J. Collins, Jr., will be responsible for the implementation of Proposition 2½.

That department, along with the Department of Education and the Executive Office of Communities and Development, will sponsor a series of regional informational meetings on 2½ beginning Dec. 15.

In Andover, a meeting is scheduled for 9 a.m. to noon, Wednesday, Dec. 17, at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School, 57 River Road, in the lecture hall.

In addition to a general explanation of the tax levy limitation for fiscal year 1982, the determination of full and fair cash valuation, and the excise tax, speakers will discuss state mandates, school autonomy, regional school district limitation, and management issues.

Workshops will also be held on Dec. 15 in Holyoke and Worcester, Dec. 16 in New Bedford, and Dec. 18 in Randolph.

McCracken's License Suspension Appealed

McCracken's Package Store, 4 Poor St., remained open for business this week—despite a selectmen's order to suspend the store's license for 20 days—pending a hearing on a preliminary injunction scheduled to be heard in Essex Superior Court this week.

Atty Reginald Marden of Andover, representing McCracken's license-holder William Buco, said Monday that he filed the court action last Wednesday to restrain the selectmen's order from taking effect.

A court ruling in favor of the license-holder would block the license suspension until Buco can appeal the selectmen's order before the state Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission (ABCC), and a state hearing is held.

Buco's appeal to the ABCC will be handled by Atty. Joseph Monteforte of Saugus.

Marden said, but earlier this week, Monteforte would not comment on his client's plans for an appeal.

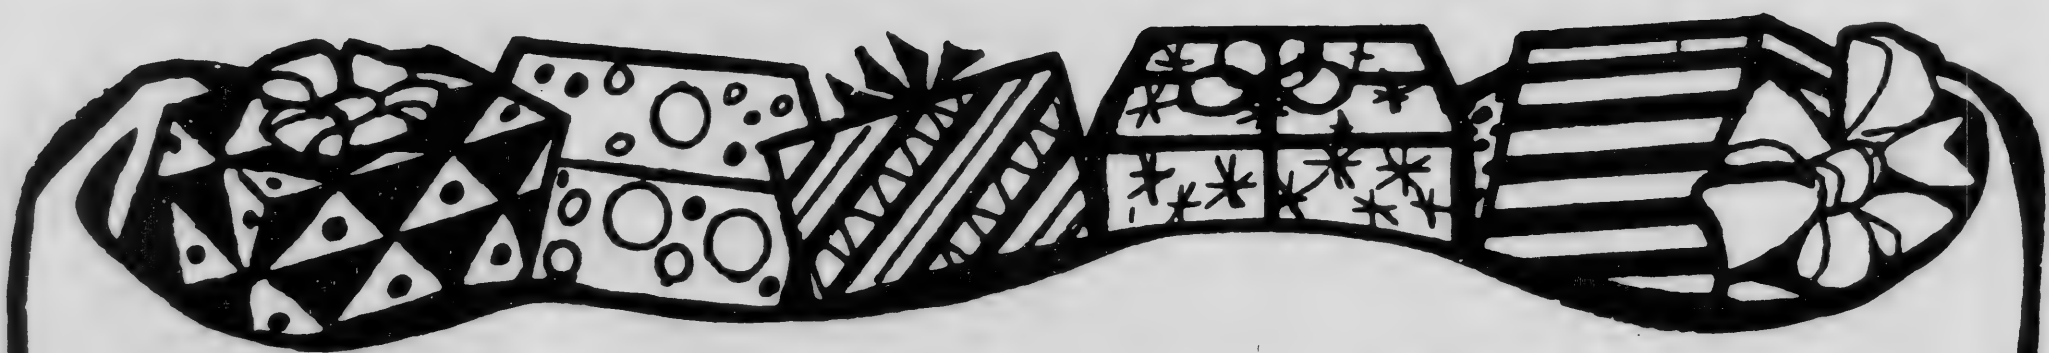

William J. McCarthy, executive secretary for the ABCC, said Tuesday that no appeal had yet been filed on the McCracken's license suspension.

The selectmen last week ordered the license suspended from Dec. 4 through Dec. 27—most of the busiest month of the year for most package stores—after finding that a McCracken's clerk sold a bottle of wine to a 16-year-old girl on June 30.

The clerk, Kevin Kennedy, 20, of North Andover, was convicted of procuring alcohol for a minor last month in Lawrence District Court.

However, Kennedy will appeal the conviction before a six-man jury in Haverhill

A Proper Move

The Land Use Committee of West Parish Church has a plan for development of their property on Reservation Road, referred to, as of the moment, as a retirement community.

The members presented their preliminary views to the planning board a week ago, along with noting that while they would like to get the project moving soon, their prime desire was to work with the board and the community.

It is a proper and wise move.

A couple of projects of a similar nature come to mind, as we commend the West Parish group for their desire not to push the project too rapidly.

A few years ago, Phillips Academy was about to lease its Abbot Academy property to a Life Care facility. It came before town meeting and was rejected.

Opinion was that the project was placed before the townspeople too rapidly, with little time to look into the possible ramifications of such a facility on the town's services.

It was a good proposal, one which would have met a need in the town and which would have made the School Street property tax-productive.

But the town said no, and the academy went back to using the Abbot campus, and usable by Phillips for some of its programs. Other parts of the parcel have been sold off for single-home development.

More recently, of course, was the proposal to adopt a condominium townhouse bylaw and allow construction of such units at the corner of Argilla Road and Andover Street.

Again, the proposed construction and location seemed a logical use of the land. The bylaw, which will be a necessity here soon, as the popularity of townhouses or condos grows, was the main stumbling block.

Presented in late summer, the planning board had little time to adequately study the problems inherent in an all-encompassing regulation. There are too many empty lots of considerable acreage in Andover which could be adaptable to such regulation.

Time just did not permit adequate study and preparation, and the project was defeated by voters at a special town meeting a few weeks ago.

Now, West Parish comes forward with a proposal which is multi-family housing units on a large plot of land, in essence.

But, unlike the other proposals, this group wants to make it appealing to the townspeople, provide the time to look into any problems which might prohibit such development and then go to town meeting.

While they no doubt would like to go before the annual town meeting next spring or early summer, by the same token, they are willing to wait until the following year, if necessary, just to make sure all the I's are dotted and the T's are crossed before asking the town's approval.

We applaud the group in making the proper move in keeping the town informed of their plans and their intent to work with the planners. Such a community within Andover has merit. Based on the intent of the Land Use group and its consultants, West Parish may be just the place for such a project.

Well Done

Andover's Firefighters Union did their usual well done job in providing a greeting for Santa Claus last Saturday afternoon.

For as long as we can remember, the firefighters' greeting of the jolly, old, red-suited gent, has been as traditional as Christmas itself.

And, each year the group makes that extra effort to do a little better than the year before.

It takes time and effort to produce the parade and provide an entertaining greeting for Santa and the residents of the community, young and old alike.

It also proves what we have known all along, that Andover is fortunate in having good public servants, aware of the need to thank the people of the town from time to time, in some way. Among them, the Andover Firefighters.

And, while in the mood for handing out bouquets, we'll extend a tip of the Townsman Topper to the Andover schools' music department. The high school band and the elementary school band were in the line of march Saturday afternoon and provided some excellent musical accompaniment for the marching units, floats and Santa himself. Their efforts were impressive to say the least.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — December 1905

Owls seem to have become numerous throughout the town, a number having been seen and on Wednesday night, a fine one was shot by an enthusiastic sportsman.

The trustees of the Andover Savings Bank, at a meeting held on Tuesday morning, declared a semi-annual dividend of two per cent, payable on the third Wednesday of this month.

Mrs. William MacKenzie and Mrs. Gorrie sail from Boston on next Tuesday for Dundee, Scotland, to spend the New Year holidays with relatives and friends.

The snow rollers which were purchased by the town this summer were used for the first time on Monday, and there is a diversity of opinion regarding their benefit to travel. It is thought by the heads of the highway department that they have not been given a fair trial as the snow was pretty well trodden down before they were brought out.

James Falconer of Abbot Village, the prominent fancier in livestock, has entered the show at Brockton this week with his famous string of show homers. He is to visit the show tomorrow and expects to carry away several prizes.

50 Years Ago — December 1930

One-hundred Eighty fathers and sons sat down to the supper prepared for them on Thursday evening at the Free Church parish house by members of the Helping Hand Society. The menu included beef steak pie, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, cabbage salad, pickles, rolls, cake, ice cream and coffee.

Iturbi, the Spanish piano virtuoso, presented a piano concert in George Washington Hall last Monday night that will long live in the memories of those who heard him. Possessing a masterful technique, he nevertheless carried his listeners far beyond a mere display of piano pyrotechnics through his genius for original interpretation.

Violation of traffic regulations through failure to observe automatic signals is increasing, observers say. This is a dangerous practice. Unless steps are taken to curb it, accidents on our highways will become more and more numerous.

A garage in the rear of the home of James I. Toohey in Abbot Village was entered and an attempt was made to start the machine late Saturday night. The machine was locked, however, and the attempted theft of the automobile is believed to have ended with this discovery.

Margaret McDonald of Elm Court had two dresses valued at $20 stolen from her Tuesday morning while making a purchase in a store on Essex Street, Lawrence. According to her report made at the police station, she had purchased two silk dresses for $10 each in a store on Broadway and later entered the other store to do some shopping. While in the store she laid the two dresses on a counter and went to another part of the building upon her return, the two dresses were missing.

Gleason Street has been officially ruled a subdivision by the town counsel. He has also told the Board of Public Works that no water main may be laid there by the town.

Reagan To Inherit Scandal
Of GSA Fraud and CoverupBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- President-elect Ronald Reagan will inherit a major scandal at the General Services Administration. GSA is the agency that oversees government buildings and purchases office supplies and it's rife with waste and fraud.

President Carter appointed Jay Solomon to head the agency and Solomon ordered a housecleaning. William Clinkscales, the chief investigator, obtained 130 criminal indictments against government officials who had cheated the taxpayers out of millions.

But the reformers stepped on the toes of some powerful officials. One was a friend of House Speaker Tip O'Neill, who raised a howl at the White House.

The investigation was suddenly called off in late 1978; the conscientious Solomon was fired and Clinkscales was banished to a do-nothing job where he could cause no trouble. It became business as usual again at the General Services Administration.

Now Reagan's senior advisers have sought out Clinkscales. They've learned first-hand where the skeletons are hidden and the president-elect has pledged to clean up the mess after he moves into the White House.

But we should warn Reagan that the agency's senior bureaucrats have already begun to ingratiate themselves with the incoming Republicans. They also have close ties to Tip O'Neill. O'Neill will still be House speaker after January 20, with tremendous power over congressional legislation.

SPEAK SOFTLY: It's the nature of diplomats to speak softly, for a quiet remark can signal a change in international relations. A whispered word might reverberate around the world like thunder.

Our allies indicated ever so delicately, for example, that they lacked confidence in Jimmy Carter, but they were much too discreet to criticize openly the president of the United States.

Now that Carter has been defeated, we thought some diplomats might be more willing to speak, so our staff asked them what they really think of Carter.

Their answers were not only startling; they could be historic. Carter failed to develop a special relationship with a single allied leader. West Germany's Helmut Schmidt detested him; France's Giscard d'Estaing viewed him with disdain; Britain's Margaret Thatcher merely tolerated him.

Others thought Carter was a nice fellow who was simply over his head. Most allied leaders agreed that he was unpredictable and ineffectual. In the words of one diplomat, "Not a single tear has been shed in Europe over Jimmy Carter's defeat." Here are a couple of other typical comments:

-- He signaled European leaders that he would support the deployment of the neutron bomb, then suddenly and inexplicably backed off.

-- He announced the boycott of the Moscow Olympics without an advance word to the western allies.

But the envoys won't comment about Ronald Reagan. They may talk about a past president but not a future president. The most one would say was: "Ronald Reagan couldn't possibly be worse than Jimmy Carter."

DEFENSE MINDED: Capitol Hill is defended by a reserve force whose principal weapon is hot air. This distinguished force is composed of congressmen who have demonstrated their valor fighting for bigger defense appropriations.

Any congressman with an approved voting record can get a reserve commission. He usually receives his two-week summer military training at such hardship posts as Paris, London, Tokyo, Hong Kong and Honolulu.

The latest applicant is Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., whose aides have made discreet inquiries at the Pentagon about a naval reserve commission. Hart has absolutely no military experience. But he has one qualification that should overcome this: He's a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Navy needs his vote.

Meanwhile, the emphasis of the Reagan administration will be on defense. Already the president-elect's advisers are clamoring for more money for defense, more equipment for defense and more nuclear weapons for defense.

But there's a central question in all this talk of more, more, more that hasn't been answered. How can they create more from less without adding massive amounts to a defense budget that's already bloated?

Reagan's defense planners are in the process of studying a report that provides the answer -- use old laws to create new defense policies. The key is an idea that's dear to all conservative economists: Free up the defense industries by using legislation like the Defense Production Act of 30 years ago. Under that law, a company can win fat defense contracts by vowing to make those contracts the A-1 top priority.

It's sort of like putting every defense contractor on a wartime footing. Production rates could be raised with round-the-clock work shifts. It could give a whole new dimension to the meaning of the term "military-industrial complex."

AFTER THE BALL: This is a story about the migration of lame ducks. First, there's the Congressional Cowbird. The duck acts as though it has no permanent nest of its own. It often flies overseas wherever the climate and cuisine beckon it.

There is also the Executive Branch lame duck, known by its scientific name, "No Regret Egret." This duck looks distinguished in the face of extinction. It travels to the far corners of the earth to form policies, although within days of the junkets it will be filling out job applications.

Watch out for the Congressional Cowbird and the No Regret Egret. One will probably be flying in your area come January 20.

AHS Booters Honored

Varsity Soccer Wraps Up Best Season

By She Livermore

A large turnout of family and friends witnessed the final gathering of the 1980 Andover High Soccer Team on Dec. 4 at a banquet held in the West Junior High cafeteria. The banquet paid tribute to the many seniors who will not represent Andover High School on the soccer fields again. They are Hoan Dang, co-captain Dan Donovan, Barry Bloom, Brian Butler, Chris Bates, Mark Easton, co-captain Paul Reichert, Dave Robinson, Mike Sherman, Dave Sherman and Todd Zimmerman. These players all contributed greatly in many ways to this season's outstanding record. Their playing ability, leadership, drive, and commitment, set the proper tone for attaining such an enviable record.

Many of the seniors received special honors for their efforts. The highest honor is being chosen for the coaches' All Stars First Team selection, voted by all of the Merrimack Valley Conference soccer coaches. Andover seniors chosen for the first team were Dave Sherman, Brian Butler, and co-captain Dan Donovan.

Dave Sherman was forced to play most of the season at right defender, filling in for the injured Dave Robinson. When he did play at midfield, he scored the first goal in the 3-1 defeat of Methuen.

Brian Butler, who set many Andover records in the goal this year, was rewarded by making both the coaches All Stars first team and the Eagle Tribune All Stars team. Brian recorded the most shutouts and the lowest goals against average of any keeper in Andover's history. Moving up from the JV goalkeeper position last year, Brian received one of the Most Improved Player Awards.

The third recipient of the first team honor was co-captain Dan Donovan who, operating from his center midfield position, scored nine goals and had three assists. Dan's goals provided the spark in many games late in the season.

The coaches All Stars Second Team saw seniors Mark Easton and Chris Bates chosen. They were the left and right midfielders respectively and contributed four goals between them to the offense; their work on defense was also outstanding. Chris Bates was also the recipient of the Most Improved Player Award and was recognized for his ball handling skills, being the third Andover player on record to accomplish 500 consecutive touches on the ball without it touching the ground.

Honorable Mention All Stars included Mike Sherman, left winger, who was recognized even though he missed the first half of the season due to an injury suffered in pre-season. Mike was the sparkplug and expert ball handler who made the most of all situations. When he was not scoring goals, he was making chances for others to score by creating confusion for the opponents' defenders.

Many of this season's major contributors were underclassmen and will be returning. The only underclassman recognized for All Stars first team honors was sophomore Steve Carbone. Steve set many records on his way to becoming not only the team's high scorer but also tying the league's high scoring crown. Steve scored 12 goals and had eight assists for 20 points. This was the first time an Andover player was ever in contention for the scoring crown. Steve's accomplishment eclipses Dave Farrel's long standing record of 18 points received for 14 goals and four assists. Steve was the only other Andover player to make both coaches' All Stars first team and the Eagle Tribune's All Stars team.

An underclassman recognized for the coaches' All Stars second team was John Lemieux. John, a junior, was a first year player who captured sweeper position and with consistently solid and frequently brilliant play, kept the opposition's offense at bay.

Achieving Honorable Mention as a junior was right wing Dan Roberts. The coaches recognized his steady, consistent play throughout the season. He scored a total of five goals and had three assists; he missed by only two seconds scoring the tying goal in the team's only loss to Methuen and also had another goal called back by one second in yet another game.

Sophomores earning letters included Todd Lockwood, center defender, Dan Boland, left midfielder, Greg Batten, right wing, and Dan Kimball, backup goaltender and left wing. Dan Boland and Dan Kimball also became the fourth and fifth Andover players to accomplish 500 consecutive touches. This is an indication of the skill improvement over the years as more players accomplished the feat this year than in the previous five years combined.

While this year's post season play ended in the agony of defeat, Andover soccer did a lot to establish itself by outplaying, although losing to, a very good Lexington team. Andover created many dangerous offensive opportunities but could not capitalize on them.

Coach Amundsen is confident the team will set a goal to return to post season play next year in an attempt to better their record. He said, "They set high standards and are willing to work and make the necessary commitments to achieve them." It will not hurt that this year's JV version of the Andover soccer team also won the Merrimack Valley Conference and many of the players will be challeng-

Circuit Training for Fitness is a unique program for persons who have been actively engaging in exercise for two months or more. Circuit training methods will be used in a variety of activities including rope jumping, step-ups, jogging and use of the universal gym. This is an excellent maintenance program for skiers and others looking for an individually monitored exercise program during the ing for varsity positions, along with some upstart sophomores from both East and West Junior Highs.

An appropriate end to the evening was the announcement of next year's co-captains. Chosen to lead the team were Adam Roberts, Paul Thoday and Dan Roberts. Coach Amundsen was asked to comment and responded, "It was a championship choice for a championship team. All three individuals have proven their ability against the best in the league. I expect a superior job of leadership, they will show the way in commitment and dedication. They are respected by their opponents and their teammates, and will be worthy of this trust. There are many new records to achieve in 1981."

Coach Amundsen and the team members are grateful to the Friends of Soccer for their help with the banquet and for providing the trophies for the team's first Merrimack Valley Conference Championship.

The cage at the Phillips Academy (artificial surface) will be available twice daily, Monday through Friday, for 10 weeks to enrollees wearing "Y" identification pin.

The Y's Way to a Healthy Back, a six-week program meeting twice weekly, is a special exercise program for those who suffer from low back pain. This course is also extremely beneficial to those who are just beginning in a fitness program or who are in need of a relaxation program to ease tension. This program was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, M.D., a noted back specialist, and is conducted by certified instructors.

Registration is now open for these programs.

Intermediate Blue Hoop Season Opens

By Rick Harrison

Ballardvale United B, St. Robert's C, West Parish B, Christ Church C, South and St. Augustine Fall chalked up opening night victories in recent Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division action at the West Junior High, West Elementary and South School gymnasiums.

Ballardvale B slugged Christ Church B, 22-9, St. Robert's C belted St. Augustine E, 38-7, West Parish B slugged St. Robert's F, 60-8, Christ Church C popped Ballardvale United A, 24-3, South ripped St. Robert's E, 33-12, and St. Augustine F nudged St.-Robert's D, 13-9.

Ballardvale B, 22-9

Ballardvale B got off to a slow start, trailing Christ B 7-4 at halftime, but Scott Jangro scored three third period baskets as the eventual winners inched ahead 10-9 entering the final quarter.

A 12-0 Ballardvale blitz in the fourth stanza made it a runaway, as Mike Mooney and Steve Smith netted 4 points each and John Bird contributed his only basket of the game.

Scott Jangro earned game-high scoring honors with 10 points, while Bob Nutter swished a first period fieldgoal for BU.

Adam Smith pocketed 7 points and Sandra Lyons chipped in 2 for Christ B. Brad Wright and Lori Ahouse also played strong games.

St. Robert's C, 38-7

This one was not in doubt for very long, as St. Robert's C raced to a 16-5 first quarter lead and outscored St. Augustine E in each period enroute to the 38-7 win at West Elementary.

Cliff Marotta produced all eight of his points and 10-year-old guard Matt Gibson added six to key the big first period for St. Robert's.

Gibson scored in each quarter to fashion a game-high 16 points, while twins Cliff and Gary Marotta controlled the boards and finished with 8 points each. chelle Belisle popped in 4 points and Greg Harris added 2, with other standout efforts coming from Stephen DeVoir and fast Eddie Sheehan.

Mark Russell pocketed 5 points and Steve Surette added 2 for St. Augustine E.

Hustling on defense were Andy Paulione, Jose Guerra, Mike O'Sullivan and Brandon McCue.

West Parish B, 60-8

West Parish B, coming off a 10-1 season, placed nine different players in the scoring column in its resounding win over St. Robert's F at the West Junior High gym.

The victors chalked up 18 unanswered points in the first period, and proceeded to outscore St. Augustine in each quarter.

Mike Lane connected on several nice driving lay-ups and led all marksmen with 12 points, while Kurt Burzlaff did some strong work underneath to finish with 10 points.

Matt Geiger pocketed all 8 of his points in the final stanza, and contributing 6 points apiece were Andy Lee, Robbie Thompson and Bill O'Brien with some eagle-eye outside shooting.

Dave Sullivan, Mark Geiger and Jeff Larsen swished 4 points each, and Andy Lee also handed out several pretty assists.

Jim Davis tossed through 4 points for St. Robert's F, while Tim and Sean Melia stuffed 2 points apiece.

Other strong efforts for St. Augustine came from Matt McLaughlin, Dave McSweeney and John Slavin.

Christ Church C, 24-3

The young Christ C quintet, most of its players drawn from last year's undefeated Junior Division title team, made an impressive jump to the Intermediate ranks with a 24-3 decision over Ballardvale A at South School.

Dave Pratt led five C-C performers into the scoring column with 8 points, Bob Beanland hooped 5, Jonathan Pratt and Dave Lewis 4 points each, and Bart Kalkstein 3.

John Knowles, Dave Stark and Bob Wood turned in strong performances as well for Christ C.

Dave Rehe fired through all 3 Ballardvale A points, while other notables were Jennifer Ward and Jim Ward.

South, 33-12

The more experienced South team, led by Scott Wilkins, applied some full-court pressure defense in the fourth quarter to break open a tight game and defeat a pesky St. Robert's E squad that played hardnosed defense throughout.

South led 8-2 after one quarter, but St. Robert's E closed the gap to 10-8 at half-time and trailed only 14-12 in the third period.

The press, however, led South on an

Farrell Is Co-Captain

Dave Farrell of Andover has been elected co-captain of the 1981 soccer team at Springfield College, Springfield.

The Andover high graduate was the team's leading scorer with five goals and eight assists and was named best offensive player. Coach Irv Schmiddean of New England coaches, in his 33rd season, noted, "Farrell carried our front line. He made everybody else work out there. I'd say he was the key to our offense."

Merrimack Girls Drop Close One

The Merrimack College Women's basketball league lost to the visiting Emmanuel College team last Saturday by a score of 56-55, bringing the local team's record to 1-1.

A close contest, with both teams within six points of each other throughout, the game was decided in the closing minutes, when Emmanuel scored just before the final buzzer sounded.

High scorers for Merrimack were co-captain Karen Viglione, a senior, with 10 points; co-captain Debbie Cogan, a sophomore, with nine points; freshman Mary Grunbeck, nine points; and freshman Martha Naber, six points.

Emmanuel's high scorers were Carol Bishop with 12 points; Gwen Smith, 16 points; and Jeanne DeAngelis, 18 points.

West Parish Breaks On Top

By Rick Harrison

West Parish A, St. Robert's B, St. Augustine A and Christ Church Basketball League kicked off its Intermediate Gold Division schedule recently at the West Junior High gym.

West A broke open a tie game in the third quarter enroute to its 35-20 conquest of St. Augustine D, St. Robert's B bolted to a big halftime lead and then coasted to a 32-16 victory over St. Augustine B.

St. Augustine A rallied from a 10-point first quarter deficit to nudge St. Robert's A, 25-21, and last year's Blue Division champ Christ A made an impressive Gold Division debut by trimming new member Temple Emanuel 34-16.

West A, 35-20

West Parish A inched ahead 4-0 after one period on a pair of baskets by Rob DiTroia, and increased the lead to 8-2 midway through the second quarter on fieldgoals by Tim Boudreau and Robbie Barnard.

The quick St. Augustine D crew battled back to tie it 10-10 at halftime, however, with four points apiece by Chris Poor and Paul Shedy sparking the rally.

Seven points by Boudreau, alone with buckets from Steve Gemmell and Barnard, keyed a pivotal 11-2 third period burst by West A to make it 21-12.

St. Augustine D came as close as 27-20 in the final session, but West A tallied the final eight points of the game with DiTroia, Gemmell and Leo Gravell doing the damage.

Rob DiTroia took game high scoring honors with 16 points for West A, 10 of them in the final quarter, while Tim Boudreau added 9, Steve Gemmell and Robbie Barnard 4 year, Leo Gravell 2 and Larry Aiello 2.

Chris Abell and Scott Kelly also turned in strong performances for the victors.

Paul Shedy swished 12 points, Chris Poor 6 and Brian Merritt 2 for St. Augustine D.

Other standouts were Scotty Wallace, John Moosa and Walt Radulski.

St. Robert's B, 32-16

St. Robert's B displayed outstanding balance, putting eight players into the scoring column enroute to its 32-16 triumph over a spirited and tenacious St. Augustine B squad.

The victors grabbed a 7-0 first period lead, stretched it to 17-5 at halftime, and then traded baskets most of the second half with St. Augustine B.

Chris Ring paced the St. Robert's attack with 8 points, and right behind him with 7 each were Gerry Nassif and John Perry.

Chris Sapuppo hooped a pair of second period buckets, while Larry Middleton and Chris Concemi chipped in single fieldgoals.

Jeff Smith and Mike Moynihan completed the offense with single free throws.

Scott Grant netted 6 second half points for St. Augustine B, and he also played tough defense, while Paul Sapienza showed some fine ballhandling skills and contributed 5 points.

Peter Lyons tossed in 3 points, Maura Drew had a fieldgoal, and other notables were Drew Dunn and Mike Moriarty.

St. Augustine A, 25-21

St. Robert's A started off with intentions of routing St. Augustine A, bolting to a 13-3 first quarter lead as Jeff Smith and Dave Cox combined for nine points and the team swished five free throws.

The second period was all St. Augustine A, however, as Chris Bartley heated up to score 10 points and key a 12-3 run that cut the St. Robert's lead to 16-15 at the break.

Tim Scanlon and Bartley paced a 7-0 third quarter outburst by the winners, who then held off St. Robert's A in the final stanza.

Chris Bartley was game-high marksman with 15 points, Tim Scanlon added 5, Paul Davies and Kevin Walsh 2 apiece, and Joe Hurley canned one free throw.

Bobby Pothier, Scott White (five free throws) and Jeff Smith notched 5 points each for St. Robert's A. Dave Cox contributed 4 and Mike Autiello had a second period basket.

Billy Dutton and Charlie Sheehan also played well for St. Robert's.

Christ Church A, 34-16

In a battle of two giant teams, Christ A inched ahead 16-10 at halftime and put the game on ice with an 8-0 third quarter burst to sink Temple Emanuel whose first league effort was a good one.

Chris Scott keyed the third period effort with a pair of baskets, while Beau Jones and Billy Earnshaw added fieldgoals for the winners.

Jones and Doug Rotundi netted four points apiece in the final session as Christ A kept its comfortable lead.

Chris Scott reached double figures and shared game-high honors with 10 points for the victors. Beau Jones fired through 8 points, Doug Rotundi 6, Billy Earnshaw and Andy Frost 4 apiece and Gretchen Sucholdolski had a fourth quarter bucket.

winning streak and a 6-3 record for the month of November to take on two of Maine's top teams.

Saturday, the Bantams dropped a 7-2 decision to Kennebec (Augusta) but rebounded for a 2-0 victory over Brunswick on Sunday.

Kennebec 7 - Andover 2

After an exhausting bus ride to Augusta, the Bantams opened their weekend series early Saturday evening. Skating with a depleted defensive corps, Andover played the home team to a virtual stalemate for a period and a half until they ran out of gas.

The first period ended at 1-1 on center Shane Smith's (Marjerison) first of two goals of the day. Kennebec scored two goals in the second stanza for a 3-1 lead. This lead increased to 4-1 early in the third period before Smith scored his second goal on a pretty pass from Marjerison to bring the locals within two. However, it was too little too late as Kennebec took control over a tired Andover squad and scored three late goals to ice the victory. Ray Cormier and Steve McDowell split the goaltending duties in a losing effort. Kennebec out-shot Andover 19 to 16.

Andover 2 - Brunswick 0

On Sunday morning, Andover combined timely scoring, solid goaltending and a near flawless defense in defeating Brunswick, Maine's second ranked team 2-0 for their fifth win in the last six games.

Andover's Ray Cormier turned aside nine first period shots while the Brunswick goalie faced ten Andover shots.

Winger Tom Marjerison (Smith, Donovan) got what proved to be the game winner at 8:39 when he redirected Donovan's blast from the point. With 11 seconds remaining in the second period, forward Dean LoPresti (Daly) gave Andover some breathing room when he made the score 2-0. To further compliment a great defensive job turned in by blue liners

Donovan, DelTrecco, Marocco, Ferrara and Jon Crawford, it should be pointed out that Andover played a man short for almost all of the final six minutes of the game. To make matters worse, Andover skated two men down for the final minute. During this time, McDowell came up with six saves to help register the teams fourth shutout of the season.

Girls Hoop League Registering

The Department of Community Services is now accepting rosters from teams looking to play in this year's Girls Basketball League. The league will once again be broken up into two divisions: elementary (grades 4-6) and junior high school (grades 7-9). Girls are encouraged to pick up information and roster sheets which are now available at the main offices of all Andover elementary and junior high schools.

As in past, girls are asked to form their own team and to recruit their own adult coach. Those girls who are not able to get on a squad or find a coach are invited to register at the Bancroft Elementary School Gymnasium at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 20.

The department will make every effort to place each registering girl on a team and to locate a coach for that team. League play will begin on Saturday, Jan. 17. A clinic featuring a review of fundamental basketball skills and specific league rules will take place on Jan. 10. The deadline for submitting team rosters is Friday, Dec. 19. For further information, contact the Community Services office Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

PeeWee A Andover 4 - Somerville 1

Andover's PeeWee A's won their third game in a row on Monday evening, Dec. 1, when they defeated Somerville 4-1 in Wilmington League action. Andover goalies Kenny Young and Greg Najjar split the duty for the game. Each stopped a breakaway by Somerville while the game was at the 2-0 and 3-1 stages respectively, to nail down the victory. Somerville's only goal came on a tip in during a second period power play. Andover out-shot the opposition 30-7 in the game and killed off eight penalties.

Cort Pomeroy opened the scoring for Andover midway through the first period,

Church League

St. Robert A, 34-26

Robbie Veilleux did the bulk of the damage for St. Robert A, firing through a game-high 20 points including 15 in the first half when the victors opened up a comfortable lead.

St. Robert A grabbed a 7-3 advantage after one quarter, and increased it to 22-8 at halftime, thanks to the outside sharpshooting of Veilleux. West Parish, with a fine defensive effort, outscored the victors 18-12 in the final two periods.

Contributing five points for St. Robert's in limited action was Bob French, Chris Fay notched four, Paul Finnegan, three, and Dave Bates was held to two.

Chris Marcella paced the West assault with 15 points, including eight in the fourth quarter, rookie Glenn Livermore netted six, and Jim Lowe tossed in five.

St. Robert B, 42-38

Tim Perry, with 16 points, and John Sheedy, with 14 markers, led St. Robert B to a hard fought victory over a game St. Augustine A team.

St. Robert held a 6-4 lead after the first quarter, increased it to 20-12 at halftime, and then had to withstand a furious second half countercharge by the scrappy St. Augustine team to seal the win.

Contributing six points for St. Robert B was Billy Deppe, while solo buckets were scored by Bob Dziadosz, Bill Foley and Joe Vecchi.

Rob Harrison garnered 16 points, including four of four from the foul line, and played a fine all around game for St. Augustine A.

Rich Sullivan popped in eight and Keith Driscoll, six, and both did a fine job rebounding. Roy Rourke chipped in six points from downtown, while Walter Pitts had a basket.

completing a setup by linemates Mosa Kaleel and David Bartle, both of whom earned assists. Less than four minutes later, David Young made it 2-0 Andover as he rifled in a shot off a nice pass from Georgie Heseltine who was behind the Somerville net. Andover dominated the period offensively, aided by the excellent point play of defensemen Earl Abdoo and David Curtis.

Somerville scored a power play goal five minutes into the middle period to make it 2-1. Cort Pomeroy scored his second goal of the game from a scramble in front four minutes later to regain Andover's two goal lead. Defenseman Paul Gilmartin earned an assist on the play. Andover again dominated as Steven Donovan and Jamie O'Brien, who had six shots on net in the game, were robbed by the Somerville goaltender.

Shannon McCabe led Andover's third period offense which managed to outshoot Somerville 12-2 in the period. Despite the several good chances, Timmy Donovan scored Andover's only goal on a setup by defenseman Matt Shine, to make the final tally 4-1. The win keeps Andover in the upper half of the standings in the Wilmington League with the season about one third over.

PeeWee B Team

Wilmington League Andover 3 - Reading 3

This year's series with Reading may turn into a first-rate rivalry. A couple of weeks ago Reading won a hard-played, 3-2 game and today, in another exciting game, the two teams skated to 3-3 tie.

Reading got on the board first when Andover couldn't tie up the puck in close, and a shot went through a maze of sticks and skates in front. Then Andover settled down, and Dan Hagerty, Matt Alden and Chris Sapuppo almost scored a couple of times on one shift, controlling play around the net and setting up repeated tip-in chances. Later in the period, they tied up the score when Hagerty drove in a pass across the goal mouth from Sapuppo.

Near mid-period Kyle McCabe, Mark Berberian and Matt Young teamed up with defensemen Mark Needham and Tom Herling on a strong power play and had several scoring opportunities.

In the second period, Andover went ahead on a fine goal by Bill Bruno. He picked up a loose puck near the blue line and started a two on one rush with Mike Nelligan. Moving in close, he faked the pass to throw the defenseman off balance and then took the shot and followed through to drive in his own rebound. Dave Riddiford, playing wing on this line, did some excellent work in the corners throughout the game to keep up a fine Andover attack.

In the third period, Reading tied up the game with a hard-earned goal. But, other than that, the game was a tough, even contest. Chris Hansberry and Tim Adams each played half the game in goal and both were tested hard by Reading, and each had more than one exceptional save on breakins. John Gangi was outstanding on defense, breaking up several one-on-one rushes, and preventing a number of breakouts. And late in the game, his partner, Peter Trede, made several heads-up plays at the blue line to maintain offensive pressure and set up scoring chances. Gregg Tormey combined with Needham, Hagerty and Alden to kill off a penalty at a crucial point in the third period, playing most of the short-handed time in the Reading zone, and they almost scored a couple of times.

With three minutes left, Andover had one of their few disorganized moments of the game, and got chasing around in their own end. And being the kind of team they are, Reading quickly took advantage. They went ahead 3-2, and the game looked like a frustrating repeat of the last one.

But some hard skating and digging in the Reading zone paid off. With less than a minute left, and McCabe on the ice as a sixth skater and the goalie pulled, Andover created havoc in front of their opposition's net. And Dan Hagerty grabbed a loose puck in close and flipped it up into the top corner for his second goal and the tie.

Then for 56 seconds, both teams put on a fine display of offense and defense at both ends of the ice, but neither could break the tie. They'll continue their efforts next week, when they meet again at the Danvers rink.

Danvers League Andover 8 - Beverly 3

This victory was a fine example of Andover's improving skills and team play. Early in the season they were hard pressed to hold onto a 3-2 win against this same Beverly team. But tonight it was no contest even though Beverly got the first score late in the first period. But within less than a minute, Matt Young had tied it up with an assist to Mark Berberian.

Then in the second period, Andover dominated and put the game out of reach with three unanswered goals. Dave Rid-diford, who has been a real power up front in the past few games, got two scores in a row. The first came when Mike Nelligan's attempted tip-in of a Bill Bruno shot deflected onto his stick for a quick score, and the second on a nice assist to defenseman Brian Gibson. And with one second left in the period, Matt Alden drove a hard shot into the top corner for what was to be the game-winning goal.

In the third period, Beverly tried to get back on track with some strong offense and a score right at the start. But Andover reestablished control on some good defensive work by John Gangi, Tom Herling and Gregg Tormey. The defensive pairings got a lot of added strength from the welcome return of Mark Needham, who had missed several games due to illness.

Then Andover pulled ahead again when Nelligan jammed home a blocked shot from Bruno before it could be tied up in the crease. Berberian soon added to the lead on a good play with the assist to Kyle McCabe. And then McCabe scored with the assist to Young. Tom Herling took advantage of Beverly's pulling the goalie, faking a defenseman and driving a wrist shot past him for an empty net goal.

Beverly showed excellent spirit in a losing cause, never giving up, and scored their third goal with only one second left in the game.

Squirt B Andover 6 - Saugus 3

Andover's Squirt B's finally put it all together last Saturday, blowing out Saugus's Squirt B's 6-3. The game was a high point in the season for Andover as everyone on the squad played well. The star of the game was Matty Pothier, who scored five goals.

Matty scored his five goals in succession to give his team a big lead which let them coast to the victory. His first goal was unassisted and came at the seven minute mark of the first period. It was followed by a penalty on Andover which was killed off beautifully by Michael DiStefano,

David Sopp, D.J. Camarota, and Timmy Sullivan. Matty scored three more times in the second period. His first of the period and second of the game came at the six minute point off a nice pass from Timmy Sullivan. His next two goals came eight seconds apart with less than three minutes left in the period. One was unassisted and the other was set up by Jimmy Morris's pass. The penalties called on Andover in the second period were killed off by a unit made up of forecheckers Todd Roycroft and Gary Bleszinski and defensemen Danny Ianodoli and Michael Tiberii.

Michelle DiStefano played the entire game in goal for Andover and finally lost her shutout early in the third period after making several good stops. By that time, her team had scored four goals. Matty Pothier made it 5-1 less than two minutes later with his fifth goal of the game. Danny Ianodoli earned an assist on the play. David Sopp scored Andover's sixth and final goal several minutes later at the end of a fine rush. Before the game ended, John Constantine and Eddie Chaisson had good scoring chances turned away by the Saugus goalie. The B's play again next Saturday in Danvers and host Littleton at Phillips Academy on Sunday.

Andover 5 Brunswick, Maine 3

In a traditional away game in Brunswick, Maine, a friendly rivalry was renewed. The game was surprisingly close between the two teams, although Brunswick had only played five games this season. They looked well organized and skated well as a team. The first period opened fast. The line of Pat Breen, Robert Stoltz and Doug Bleszinski took the opening face-off and brought it deep into Brunswick's zone. Pat Breen scooped the puck back to Hugh Maginnis at the point. Hugh took the puck into the center and shot it high. Robert Stoltz screened the goalie and the puck went in. Sixteen seconds had gone by. This seemed to settle things down and the skating evened out. Brunswick picked up a bouncing puck and Billy Parker, their right wing, was able to drive the puck by goalie Mike Murnane, on the short side at 10:23 of the period.

For the next eight minutes, Andover had the edge offensively, but Brunswick's goalie, Jake Kemm, was up to the task. The defensive pair of Tom Tormey and Hugh Maginnis played well in the period. The Breen, Stoltz, Bleszinski line struck again at the 2:30 mark. Doug Bleszinski, from the left wing, broke the puck out of Andover's zone. He passed to Robert Stoltz who then hit Pat Breen. Pat broke in and blew a nice shot past Brunswick's goalie. Things looked good for Andover, but Brunswick was able to beat our defense and goalie at the 55 second mark. Joey Marro hit Kent Burnham with a nice pass and Kent beat our goalie on the short

PeeWee A's Win Two In Maine

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 11, 1980

Andover's PeeWee A's completed a highly successful weekend trip to Maine on Sunday, Dec. 7, with a 6-0 victory of host Brunswick at Bowdoin College. The Brunswick victory was Andover's fifth in succession. On Saturday, Andover defeated Kennebec 2-1 in as good a PeeWee game as could be seen anywhere. The Maine victories, the five game streak, and the PeeWee's success thus far this season can be attributed to hard work and a team spirit not often seen at any level.

Andover 2 - Kennebec 1

The first two period of the Kennebec game were scoreless, with the Andover A's outshooting their hosts 15-10. The Cort Pomeroy-Mosa Kaleel-David Bartle line kept the puck in the Kennebec zone much of their time on the ice but Kennebec's goalie and defense held them scoreless. Shannon McCabe's line, with wingers Timmy Donovan and David Young, played equally well but with the same lack of success. Timmy had the bad luck to hit the post twice on what would have been sure goals. Andover's defensemen did an excellent job in containing Kennebec's offense. David Curtis, Matt Shine, Earl Abdoo and Stevie Donovan each came up with one or more key plays during the first two periods to keep the game scoreless.

Andover's first score, and the first goal of the game, came four minutes into the final period when Georgie Heseltine stuffed a loose puck by the Kennebec goalie. The score came after Georgie and linemates Jamie O'Brien and Mark Neaves had combined to keep nearly two minutes of sustained pressure on Kennebec. Tommy Herling's play at the point helped the line considerably. Kennebec tied it up at 1-1 less than three minutes later, but a Paul Gilmartin shot from the slot ten seconds later made it 2-1 and provided the margin of victory. Assists went to Jamie O'Brien and Georgie Heseltine. This team victory was helped immeasurably by the goaltending of Kenny Young and Greg Najjar, each of whom had several excellent saves, and by the penalty killing of Matt Shine, Paul Gilmartin and David Curtis who kept Kennebec's power play bottled up all afternoon.

Andover 6 - Brunswick 0

Andover's goaltending tandem of Kenny Young and Greg Najjar had somewhat easier time of it on Sunday combining to stop 14 Brunswick shots for the 6-0 shutout while Andover was peppering the Brunswick goalie with 31 shots. The shot totals reflect the pace of the game.

Andover scored four times in the first period and coasted to the victory. Mark Neaves opened the scoring for Andover, when the game was less than three minutes old, snapping a wrist shot off a Georgie Heseltine pass by the Brunswick goalie. David Curtis made it 2-0, 90 seconds later, blasting in a slap shot from the top of the right face off circle. Assists on the score went to Timmy Donovan and Shannon McCabe. Mosa Kaleel scored Andover's third goal at the six minute mark converting a nice setup from the right corner by winger David Bartle. It was 4-0 three minutes later when Paul Gilmartin walked in and scored after taking an errant Brunswick pass. Wingers Cort Pomeroy and David Young and center

Jamie O'Brien were denied in the period by Brunswick's excellent goaltender.

Paul Gilmartin scored the only goal of the second period despite constant Andover offensive pressure which included two excellent rushes by defenseman Matt Shine. Two other defensemen, Earl Abdoo and Stevie Donovan, contributed heavily to Andover's success in shutting down Brunswick's offense.

Tommy Herling set up Andover's final goal of the game, stopping a Brunswick clearing pass at the blue line and feeding Georgie Heseltine in the slot for a quick wrist shot by the Brunswick goalie. The PeeWee's will host Brunswick on Jan. 24 when the Mainers come here for the Andover Cup Tournament.

side. The period ended in a 2 to 2 tie. Andover outshot Brunswick 7 to 2 in the period.

The second period started out strong for Andover. The second shift out was able to strike on a nice play. John Gilmartin pushed the puck into the Brunswick corner where Matt Adams picked it up and went behind the net. As Matt came out to the side, the Brunswick goalie went down and Matt slid the puck out in front. Duke McNamara, on a strong effort, beat the goalie and Andover went ahead for good. A minute and a half later, the line of Glen Farnham, Brent Raftery and Chip Stella scored what proved to be the winning goal. Brent Raftery, on some good work behind the Brunswick net, got the puck from their defensive man. Brent then swung around the net and stuffed it behind Brunswick's goalie. Joey Lyons and Peter Donegan played extremely well during this period and it looked like Brunswick would be blanked out in the period. However, Kent Burnham for Brunswick picked off a pass in Andover's zone and in a scramble in front of our net, he was able to get it by goalie Ian Anderson. At the end of two, Andover led 4 to 3. Shots on net for the period favored Andover 3 to 2.

On their second shift in the third period, the line of Breen, Stoltz and Bleszinski got the insurance goal. Robert dug the puck out of the right corner and hit Pat in the center slot. As Pat moved right, taking the goalie with him, he slid the puck to Doug. Doug drove a nice low shot to the left of the goalie to put Andover ahead 5 to 3. While Andover had the better of the remaining offensive plays, it was the defense that took over. Joey Lyons, Peter Donegan, Tom Tormey and Hugh Maginnis managed to control Brunswick's offense. Goalie Anderson handled all shots that got in and Brunswick was scoreless for the period.

The final score was Andover 5 and Brunswick 3. Andover outshot Brunswick 16 to 6 with all three lines contributing to the scoring. Defensively Andover tightened up as the game wore on and all the players contributed to a fine team effort. Brunswick played well for only their fifth game. Since this a return tournament, Brunswick will come to Andover January 3 and 4 at Phillips Academy. They will have a little more experience by then and will present a tougher team to play

Human-Powered Plane At Science Museum

The Gossamer Albatross, the first human-powered plane to cross the English Channel, is at the Museum of Science in Boston.

The fragile looking plane, weighing only 70 pounds (32 kg), but with a 96-foot (29 m) wingspan, is hung in the Museum's West Wing, where it will remain through Jan. 29.

The highly publicized flight, which occurred June 12, 1979, was accomplished by the pilot's pedalling a bicycle-like device. A single propeller connected by chain-drive to the device powered the craft. The pilot was Bryan Allen, a 26-year-old bicycle racer.

Stockings

Legend tells how a real St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop in Turkey, gave a bag of gold as a dowry to each daughter of an impoverished nobleman. To remain anonymous, he would throw each bag through a window.

By chance one fell into a stocking hung near the chimney. Discovered as the benefactor, Nicholas became known as the secret giver of gifts.

Calling Capacity Tripled

A new microwave radio system, developed by Bell Laboratories and capable of handling more than two times as many calls as existing long distance radio links, has been successfully tested and is being readied for regular service in 1981.

"This system packs more telephone conversations into a radio channel without sacrificing transmission quality," said Raymond E. Markle of 126 Bellevue Road, Andover, head of the microwave radio department at the Bell Laboratories-Merrimack Valley facility.

The new "super/highway-like" system called AR6A, employing so-called single sideband modulation, will be able to carry 6,000 calls per microwave radio channel, compared to 2,400 for the highest-capacity microwave radio link (TH-3) now used by the Bell System. The new system uses seven channels, plus a spare, to provide 42,000 voice-circuits.

The AR6A system can handle both voice and data signals. At the heart of the AR6A installations are now electronic bays containing advanced transmitting and receiving equipment designed by Bell Laboratories and produced by Western Electric.

Evaluation of a six-hop link of the system between Hillsboro and Windsor, Missouri, was successfully completed this summer after 15 months of operation. An additional three-hop extension is currently being installed between Windsor, Missouri, and LaCygne, Kansas. This nine-hop link, covering 248 miles, will be the first route of the system to enter commercial service.

"Cutover of AR6A will mark the first Bell System use of 'single side-band' (SSB) technology for high-capacity, long distance microwave transmission," said Markle. This single side-band technique, earlier invented by the Bell System, permits more efficient use of limited "radio space" (frequency spectrum) available for long distance telecommunications.

This technique has been widely used in high-frequency and very-high-frequency amateur radio, aviation and marine communications. In telecommunications, this technique has been applied in a number of cable systems, but advanced microwave amplifiers and other transmitting and receiving components had to be developed before it could be used in the high-capacity, long distance microwave radio network.

The Bell System's radio relay network now handles about 70 percent of the interstate telephone traffic across the nation. This network—composed of more than 410 million circuit miles—is managed by the Long Lines Department of AT&T in conjunction with Bell Operating Companies. Microwave signals carrying calls are transmitted between the network's antennas, typically about 25 miles apart. At each station, the signals are amplified and retransmitted to the next antenna on the way to their destination.

Minimal construction expense is necessary to integrate the new AR6A system into the existing radio relay network. The new system uses many of the buildings and antennas of existing radio systems, helping to hold down construction costs required to meet rapidly growing long distance traffic.

The new AR6A system, like present radio systems, incorporates its own protection switching equipment. If a channel should fail, for example, the equipment is capable of automatically sensing this, and of switching to another channel. In AR6A, the protection equipment is controlled by microprocessors, tiny electronic devices as powerful as the processing "brains" of small computers.

George L. Heiter

Employee Receives U.S. Patent

George L. Heiter, 26 Kathleen Drive, Andover, was recently named inventor and awarded a U.S. Patent for his development of a device which improves the reception of radio signals, especially under adverse (fading) conditions, by allowing a single receiver to be connected to two separate antennas. This technique is used in long haul radio telecommunication systems. Heiter joined the Bell System in 1963, and is a member of technical staff in the Exploratory Radio Studies Group at Merrimack Valley.

Heiter has worked with the development of ferrite materials and their application to high power microwave switches and latchtype phase shifters in conjunction with NIKE-X project, the application of the ultrasonic delay lines to computer memories and on phototransistors for low-level light detection and their application to optical memories. He is presently involved in the development of microwave components for communication systems and studies of the effects of nonlinearities on analog and digital radio transmission.

Heiter resides in Andover with his wife, Friederike, and their three children, Christian, Stephanie and Daniel.

Musical

"Freedom and Angelina" is a unique musical drama about the making of an American heroine. It opens at Peoples Theatre, Inman Square, Cambridge on Dec. 18. Through dramatic scenes and rousing songs from 19th century America, the play traces the controversial life of Angelina Grimke. Angelina was an outspoken critic of slavery and early feminist from the 1800's. Based on diaries and letters, "Freedom and Angelina" dramatizes her rebellion against her Southern slaveholding family, her romantic courtship with Abolitionist Theodore Weld, and her discovery of family members, both black and white.

"Freedom and Angelina" opens on Dec. 18 and plays Thursday through Sunday till Feb. 1, except for the Christmas weekend and New Year's Day.

Toys For Tots Campaign Underway

The Marine Corps Reserve is sponsoring its "Toys For Tots" program for the 33rd year. The program is designed to collect new toys for millions of children who might otherwise receive none at all.

To aid this year's drive, new toys are solicited. The reason is two-fold: the demand for toys grew with the program so that resources for repairing used ones was completely overloaded. Secondly, some local ordinances prohibit distribution of used toys for health reasons. Donations of new toys will be accepted until Dec. 19 by the Marine Corps Reserve Center located at North Parish Road, Lawrence.

Through the generosity of local residents, merchants, and civic groups approximately 8,700 children in Essex and Northern Middlesex Counties were not forgotten by Santa on Christmas morning. Additional information may be had by calling the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center.

Nurses Pass Exams

Graduates of the nursing programs at Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, scored well on State Board of Nursing Exams again this year. Of the 62 students taking the five exams, a total of 58, or 94 percent of those tested, successfully completed the Registered Nurse licensing requirements.

Northern Essex Community College offers both a day and evening nursing programs which lead to Associate Degrees in Nursing. It is the only public institution in New England to offer an evening registered nursing program.

Commenting on the scores achieved by Northern Essex nursing graduates, John R. Dimitry, president of the college, stated, "This excellent performance by our nursing program graduates is a reflection of the fine work being done by our faculty and staff in that department."

District Court next week.

Atty. Marden last week told the selectmen they should not find the store in violation because they had "no direct evidence" that the clerk actually sold the wine to the girl.

The testimony of Police Juvenile Officer Joseph Hastings that he found the girl outside the store carrying a bottle with a McCracken's price sticker on it was merely "hearsay evidence," the attorney said.

According to Hastings, the girl testified at Kennedy's trial that the clerk sold the wine to her.

The selectmen based the 20-day suspension on their finding that the alleged offense was the third for McCracken's since February, 1978.

Doherty Named To Board

Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner Michael J. Sabbagh has named James Doherty, an Andover independent insurance agent, to serve on the governing board of the state's auto insurance high risk pool.

Doherty, of Doherty Insurance Inc., 21 Elm St., Andover, was one of 13 new governing committee members named. The 13 replace governors dismissed by Sabbagh on Sept. 12.

The high risk pool is officially known as the Massachusetts Motor Vehicle Reinsurance Facility. It is a loss-pooling system for auto insurance companies. Insurance companies use the Facility to share the losses of high risk motorists. About 36 per cent of the current auto insurance market is reinsured through the Facility.

The appointment places Doherty, and the 12 others, in the position of policymakers for the good-sized Facility insurance plan. The Andover native is no stranger to public service and policymaking posts, however. Doherty is a former chairman of the Andover Democratic Town Committee and Town Moderator, a trustee of Merrimack College and a member of the Andover Kiwanis Club.

Fuel Aid Funds Are Available

Fuel assistance funds for low-income and elderly will again be awarded thru the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council, Inc. for the fourth heating season.

Save Energy Safely

Save energy safely. Lowering the thermostat setting on water heaters can serve the triple function of saving energy, lowering costs, and preventing serious tap water scald injuries.

Most water heaters in use are set at 140 degrees F and higher, which is hot enough to cause serious scalding burns, especially to children under the age of five and persons over sixty-five who cannot escape quickly enough. Some experts indicate that a thermostat setting on home water heaters of between 120 — 125 degrees F or lower may be necessary to prevent many serious injuries.

It has been estimated that by lowering the water heater's thermostat from 150 degrees F to even 130 degrees F, the consumer could save 8 to 9 percent on gas or electric water heater bills each year.

For your free booklet, Save Energy Safely, call CPSC, toll free 1-800-638-8326.

Smoke Detectors

Give a gift, give a smoke detector.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety commission states that more than 6,000 people die and over 300,000 are injured each year in home fires. Most deaths and injuries occur in fires that happen at night, while the victims are asleep.

Smoke detectors have been proven to be one of the most significant improvements in fire safety ever to occur. We recommend that every residence have at least one.

For a free booklet describing the selection, are and maintenance of smoke detectors, call toll free 1-800-638-8326.

Springfield Historic Site

A free exhibit of an early weaponry factory authorized by the Continental Congress, as well as an extensive gun collection, are at the Springfield Armory National Historic Site, Armory Square. Daily, 8 to 4:30.

Philip F. Laverriere, Sr., Executive Director of the G.L.C.A.C., Inc. announced that persons needing such assistance can make an appointment with the Energy Office. Laverriere said his office would administer both the Federal and State assistance programs. Documentation of Total Gross household income must be presented.

Laverriere said the Federal Program is conducted by the Department of Health and Human Services and Governor King has awarded a State portion of funding to cover one and two family households which HHS did not include in the approved plan. The Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD) has been designated as the State agency responsible for administering both plans. The program administered by G.L.C.A.C., Inc. covers the communities of Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover, Reading, North Reading, and Middleton.

will not actually be received for one to two weeks. There is a differential in the amount of assistance given to each eligible household based on income and type of fuel consumed. The G.L.C.A.C., Inc. Executive Director said that every case must be examined separately for eligibility and an appointment is required.

Persons who need assistance should contact the Energy Office to make an appointment. Home visits can be scheduled for disabled elderly and the handicapped.

December is the jingle bell month, when the traditional joy-to-the-world spirit prevails. Lest we assume that everybody has love in his heart, the Insurance Infor-

Cashews

Cashew trees are related to poison ivy and sumac. The cashew nut grows inside a shell containing toxic oil, which must be burned off before the nut can be touched. Protection from the smoke is necessary. India, Mozambique, and Tanzania are large producers of cashews, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

Garbage

Zurich, Switzerland, has been burning garbage for energy since 1904. Now, a furnace burns 320 tons of garbage a day. Four tons of garbage has the energy value equal to one ton of oil, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

mation Institute cautions against playing Santa Claus to car thieves.

Peeping Toms will sidle up to the windows of your parked car and peer covetously at any Christmas packages you might have left piled on the seats or on the floor. If your window is down or the doors unlocked, the thief will have easy pickings. And if you left the key in the ignition, your car may be stolen as well.

The Institute offers these reminders to assure your having a happy holiday, unmarred by the unpleasantness of larceny or auto theft.

Don't offer your packages or any valuables up for grabs by leaving them on the seats or on the floor of your parked car. Put them in your car trunk—and lock the trunk.

Roll your windows up tight, and lock your car doors. And don't forget to remove your ignition key when you remove yourself from your car.

Shopping plazas are happy hunting grounds for car thieves. It helps to move your car to a new parking location each time you walk out with new purchases to place in your trunk.

Never park your car in a remote, or dimly lit spot. Thieves get itchy fingers when they see an opportunity to work at their trade in the dark.

are seven Horae, or hours, gowned in gold, green, red and blue. Above, a cherub bearing a flaming torch personifies the morning star. The fresco is completed by underpinnings of blue sea and green land.

There are some two hundred extant works attributed to Reni's hand. Of these, the "Aurora" fresco is regarded by general consensus to be his masterpiece. His devotion to ideal beauty and his poetic reworking of many classical subjects allow one to surmise that he was deeply fond of the Renaissance period. Reni is credited with being the foremost precursor of neoclassicism. He died in 1642 and is buried in the thirteenth century Church of San Domenico in Bologna.

Edward F. Searles, the wealthy Methuen resident who built Serlo Organ Hall, now known as the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, lived in Rome for a period around the year 1890. There he visited the Palazzo Rospigliosi and became acquainted with Reni's "Aurora". Intensely admiring the fresco, he obtained special permission from the Italian government to have it copied. Subsequently, he commissioned Carlo Nicoli, an outstanding Italian sculptor of the day, to execute a reproduction in marble.

Nicoli, born in Carrara, Italy, around 1850, was a pupil of the earlier Italian master sculptor, Giovanni Dupre. After 1878, Nicoli worked principally in Madrid, Spain, where he was known as Carlo Nicoli y Manfredi. Two of his more famous works are "Innocence" in the Madrid Museum and "Queen Victoria" in the museum at Bristol, England.

The stone for the "Aurora" reproduction was quarried at Carrara in northwestern Italy. This area in the Apuan Alps, between the Tuscan Apennines and the Tyrrhenian sea, was, and continues to be, the source of the most highly-valued white statuary marble in the world. The incredibly accurate massive sculpture, fifteen feet in width, and eight and one-half feet in height, took seven years to complete, being finished in 1897. Also in the year 1897, Mr. Searles purchased the "Great Organ" which formerly had been in the old Boston Music Hall. It is interesting to conjecture that he may have envisioned Serlo Organ Hall both as an apt acoustical environment for the organ and as an appropriate setting for the display of the "Aurora" sculpture.

A noteworthy sidelight of the "Aurora" story concerns the nineteenth century German composer Johannes Brahms. He also apparently admired the fresco, for it is known that a reproduction of the painting hung in his studio in Vienna, Austria.

Music Hall President Sampson, commenting on the results of the research, said, "Methuen is indeed fortunate to possess such a significant work of art." "The 'Aurora' sculpture in the Methuen Memorial Music Hall is reputed to be the only marble reproduction of the famed fresco in existence."

He added, "The history of the 'Aurora', dating back to seventeenth century Rome, demonstrates anew that the finest examples of human imagination expressed in the visual arts, as those expressed in the art of music, often outlive their creators."

George Herbert Walker Bush, who has been named by President Nixon as the new ambassador to the United Nations, left an indelible impression during his days in Andover as a student at Phillips Academy. At Phillips, where he was a member of the class of 1942, Mr. Bush captained both the soccer and baseball teams, was president of the senior class for one term, and was a member of the Student Council, among a number of undergraduate activities.

A study of water rates in town has been completed and will be examined by the selectmen at a working session on Dec. 28. The report, authorized by town meeting in view of pending construction of a water treatment plant, was done by Camp, Dresser and McKee. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said this week the study is designed to point out how self-sufficient the water department actually is.

The school system will turn back approximately $150,000, a record amount, to the general fund of the town at the end of the year, the school superintendent reveals.

Snails

The Phoenician colonization of the Mediterranean and beyond was partly the result of a search for the snails that produced a valuable reddish purple dye. From 311 B.C. to 150 A.D., Phoenicians monopolized the textile dyeing industry. The name Phoenician came from the Greek word, phoenix, meaning red, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Torchlight Parades

For centuries, small Spanish settlements in the American southwest have celebrated Christmas Eve with torchlight or candlelight processions. Paths to hillside shrines and churches are lit with pinon wood bonfires known as shepherd's fires or "luminarias."

Holiday Eggnog

4 eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 quart milk, heated to scalding
1 teaspoon vanilla or rum extract
Nutmeg

Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and stir in milk gradually. Cook in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling, water — stirring constantly, until mixture coats the spoon. Add extract.

Chill well. Serve in punch bowl or punch cups and sprinkle with nutmeg.

Makes about 10 servings, ½ cup each.

Note: for a richer egg nog, add ½ pint whipping cream, whipped and slightly sweetened; blend into egg nog before chilling or float spoonfuls on top.

What separates a used Mercedes-Benz from other used cars?

A Mercedes-Benz is designed to be driven over a long time, through demanding conditions. In short, it is built to last.

The price of a used Mercedes-Benz is therefore often comparable to the price of a new "luxury" sedan. But while you may be its second owner, your Mercedes-Benz will continue to be second to none.

LAND OWNERSHIP PRO AND CON

We have often stated that ownership of raw land is a great way to earn profits when you sell. However, it should be emphasized that there are other financial realities to consider before purchasing. Remember that money is made on raw land only when you sell. During the holding time, there is no income and no cash flow.

A cash outlay is required for property taxes, insurance and mortgage payments. There is no deduction for depreciation.

Does this mean that we are suddenly changing our mind about profit potential of land? On the contrary, let us reemphasize that, with very few dollars invested, it is possible to make a small killing on land through the use of land options, leverage and acquisition just prior to change in land-use. And you can sell off the benefit at the lower capital gains rates on the profit. And while you are holding the property, you can deduct the amount of interest and taxes from your taxable income. Also it takes almost none of your time in management.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

time, on Saturdays it is difficult for traffic to get in and out of the plaza." Fridays are also "quite difficult" in the area, he added.

But, in "anticipation" of increased traffic, town officials have asked the owners of the plaza to redesign the lot and entrances, and the owners have "gone along with that request," Clark said.

"Completion of the new design in and of itself will make an improvement on a daily basis," the manager explained. "But I still believe the owner needs to hire a police officer (to direct traffic) during the busy hours, whether there is a cinema there or not."

Clark suggested that it may be possible for the town to "attach conditions" to the movie license to help deal with the potential parking and traffic problems.

Rossitto said she is unconvinced that the plaza parking lot could accommodate the cinema and new stores, or that Shawsheen could handle the additional traffic attracted to an "entertainment center" created by placing a theatre next to the Andover Jade.

"All of the people in Andover who are serviced by Shawsheen Plaza—and they are not just from Shawsheen, but from the whole area—need the services there now. We don't need that to be an entertainment part of town."

She added that Route 28 "will be just a bottleneck—the cars will be lined up from 495 all the way up 28."

Rossitto said she hopes representatives of the police and fire departments will be present at the selectmen's meeting, 7:30 Monday night at Memorial Hall Library, "to tell us what they think—if they will be able to move freely with the additional traffic."

The Shawsheen residents are also hopeful that DeSalvo will appear before the selectmen to explain the zoning bylaw parking requirements, she added.

"We don't object to having a theatre in another location," Rossitto explained. "We think that would be fine. But we are asking the town to really consider another location. Town officials all seem to agree there is a problem," she said, "but they're not doing anything about it."

However, the owners of the plaza "do have the right to use their property as permitted under the law," the town manager pointed out, "even if people may not agree with it."
